General Description

The Centurion AV14/AV18 are fully welded boats offering several unique advantages like stability, durability, high impact resistance and abrasion resistance. These boats also have excellent high speed riding feature with a high load capacity. The welded construction of these boats makes the hull extremely strong, making it suitable for users like professional divers, diving schools and even shermen. The boat also helps fire brigades get into hard to manoeuvre areas along rivers and lakes to fight fires.

As our Centurion AV14/AV18 offer a wide array of add on accessories which are readily available for our end users, this makes it very popular among the above mentioned segments of the market.
